(She’s) Lost

words & music: Richard Walton

She’s lost her way, turned around like a child at play
She’s lost her compass, lost her way like a soul astray
There’s some people that I know have told her
There’s some people that are choosing sides
They don’t know the truth, but she’s lost

She tossed away, all the vows that were blessed that day
Gave herself to someone else with a better way
There’s some people that I know have told her
There’s some people that are on her side
They don’t know the truth, but she’s lost

Denial is easy when you kick the truth
She doesn’t know right or wrong anymore

She walked away, from the one who could save her day
Far beyond comprehension of her ways
There’s some things that I wish I’d told her There’s some things I’d wish I’d know
Before I saw, that she’s lost
She’s lost
She’s lost
she’s lost
